8 Basic Tips to Save Money on College Textbooks!

- 1. Before purchasing or renting books at the bookstore compare prices online:
 - Amazon.com (Amazon is offering a 6-Month Free Trail of Student Prime. Student Prime offers Free Two Day Shipping)
 - Chegg.com
 - Half.com
 - Bookrenter.com
- Buy used books! It is highly recommended to buy use books from students. Facebook is the best way to connect to peers!

- 3. Ask the Professor. Check in with your professor or read over the syllabus to make sure they'll use the entire book. Often times they only use a few chapters from the text. This can help you decide whether to buy the book or use the library's copy.
 - Scanners are available in the Rivera and Orbach Library!
- 4. Use the Rivera and Orbach Library! Our libraries have textbooks on reserve that are available to check out for 2 hours! So don't forget to ask your professor if the textbook will be available in the library!
- 5. Our departments in Costo Hall, such as Chicano Student Programs and Undocumented Student Programs, have lending libraries. So instead of buying a book, borrow a book.
- 6. Opt for EBOOKS. Many textbooks are now available in EBook format that you can buy or rent as a cheaper alternative.
 - Don't own a tablet? Watkins has free printing up to 200 pages a quarter!
- 7. Sharing is caring! You can split the cost with a peer and arrange study schedules as often as you need.
- 8. Visit UCR BOOK EXCHANGE located on Big Springs Rd. You can find discounted UCR textbooks there!

Tax Tip: Save your receipts! Your textbook expenses might qualify as a tax credit under the American Opportunity Tax Credit or the Lifetime Learning Credit.
